A Theme Which Interests Thousands.

The Whole City Talking About These Free Lectures.

Enthusiastic Audiences Fill Tremont Temple, Boston.

Matters of the Utmost Importance to Humanity.

Well Worthy Our Readers' Careful Attention.

Another great free lecture in Tremont Temple.

Certainly the most magnificent dissolving views ever seen in this city.

And to our mind one of the grandest, most interesting, and at the same time most instructive lecture to which the people of Boston and vicinity have been treated for a long time.

But it has got so that we always expect something of far more than ordinary interest and attraction when Dr. Greene, the well-known and eminent physician of 34 Temple pl., Boston, announces a course of his magnificently illustrated lectures, for these finely illustrated lectures are of the greatest interest and value to all.

Dr. Greene is conferring great benefits upon the community by these free lectures, which, while he makes them of the most absorbing interest to the great audiences invariably present, contain as well a deep fund of valuable instruction and information.

But these benefits, great as they are, bear no comparison to the widespread good accomplished by this skilful and successful physician in his enormous practice among sufferers from disease.

Dr. Greene is a specialist in every sense of the word, treating only that class of affections known as chronic or long-standing diseases. He has devoted his life to the thorough knowledge and understanding of these diseases, which include those troubles and ailments of a lingering nature affecting the blood, nerves, stomach, throat and lungs, heart, kidneys, liver, bowels and other organs, and which the ordinary family physician or general practitioner among acute fevers, accidents, etc., has neither the time, facilities nor inclination to investigate or understand.

In curing this class of diseases, Dr. Greene has been eminently successful, so successful, in fact, that he at the present day has, without doubt, the largest practice of any physician in the world. His discoveries of wonderful and remarkable curative remedies among medicines, and the almost absolute certainty with which he perfectly and completely cures the large majority of cases who apply to him for treatment, have made his name known and his skill understood not only over the United States, but his reputation has brought many sufferers from foreign countries to be healed by his really marvellous treatment.

Another thing of great importance to most sufferers from disease is the fact that Dr. Greene can be consulted free of charge. He never under any circumstances makes any charge for advice and consultation, either when the patient calls personally or writes for such advice.

The doctor believes that patients should not be burdened with the payment of fees, that it is for treatment only which the sick should have to pay—that is for the medicines necessary to effect a cure. For this reason his consultations are entirely and absolutely free to all, and as he manufactures at his great medical laboratory all the marvellous remedies and preparations which are so wondrously effective in restoring the sick and diseased to health, he furnishes them to those who apply for his advice and treatment at a price easily within the reach of all.

If you are suffering from any form of chronic or nervous disease, and have failed to receive help from your family physician, be sure and consult this most successful specialist, Dr. Greene, at his office, 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., either personally or by letter. We are positive that you will never regret the day you placed yourself and your disease in his skilful hands.

IMPORTANT TO KNOW.

THIS IS A MOST VALUABLE PIECE OF INFORMATION TO THOUSANDS.

There is a large class of sufferers from nervous, lingering or long-standing diseases, both among men and women, who live so far away that they cannot well call at Dr. Greene's office. For such Dr. Greene has perfected a mode of treatment through letter correspondence.

If you write him a full description of your case, its symptoms, etc., the doctor can get a perfect understanding of your disease and condition, and be thereby enabled to prescribe with great accuracy and precision the exact medicines to cure.

We have positive knowledge of such a vast number of sufferers from disease thus cured by Dr. Greene through letter correspondence, and have seen such remarkably successful results follow the practical operation of this system of letter consultation and treatment, that we earnestly advise all who are troubled by nervous or chronic diseases, and who cannot call personally at the office, to at once write to Dr. Greene, 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., in regard to their cases.

The doctor gives each case who thus writes careful attention and examination, and returns an answer giving your exact condition, tells you plainly whether your case is curable or not, and furnishes advice in regard to treatment.

For all this there is no charge whatever, you having the privilege of consultation, both personally or by letter, free. He will state exactly the cost of the medicine necessary to cure your case, and you can adopt the treatment or not, as you please.

HIS WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

SOMETHING WHICH MANY PEOPLE NEED, ESPECIALLY AT THIS SEASON.

We do not feel that our duty to the public would be complete unless we speak of that greatest of Dr. Greene's medical discoveries—indeed, the greatest medical discovery of this century—Dr. Greene's Nervura. It is the greatest cure for disease ever discovered, and restores to health thousands upon thousands of sufferers.

We have for years advertised this remarkable remedy, Dr. Greene's Nervura, in our columns, and our readers can readily turn to such advertisement in almost any issue of our paper. We know of a great many cures effected by this deservedly popular medicine; in fact, we publish testimonials of wonderful cures almost every day ... from the ... weakness and exhaustion, ...

DEMOCRATIC CLUBS.

Mr. Collins Presides and Mr Cleveland Makes His Usual Speech.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4. The second quadrennial convention of the National Association of Democratic Clubs was held today in the Academy of Music. Decorators were busy until late last night decorating the hall with flags and bunting and the galleries and boxes were hung with a profusion of silks and velvets of varied hues, of shields and bannerets, of American flags and of the colors of almost every nation. Delegates cheered vigorously as one after another of prominent Democrats was seen to enter and take his seat among them or upon the stage in one of the three hundred chairs placed there. The boxes had also begun to fill up rapidly with fashionably dressed ladies who seemed to fully share the enthusiasm of their fathers, brothers or husbands. Ex-President Cleveland and Ex-Lieut. Gov. Black, of Pennsylvania, came on the platform together, amid thundering applause. Two minutes later Mr. Black called the body to order and made a speech. When Mr. Black had finished he introduced

Mr. Cleveland.

At the mention of ... name the ... was ... enthusiasm and ... for some ... was restored Mr. Cleveland said: "As an unyielding and consistent believer in Democratic principles, I ... not hesitate to pledge to the ... of organized Democracy, the good will and fraternal sympathy of this Democratic city. Your meeting is the council of war which precedes a decisive battle. This is no holiday assemblage but an impressive convocation in the furtherance of the designs and purposes, for the accomplishment of which you and those you represent, are banded together. Their designs and purposes embody the purest patriotism and loftiest aspirations of American citizenship, those who subscribe to the creed of this association and make any claim to sincerity, can hardly excuse themselves for lack of effort at a time when necessities of the Government economically administered have but little relation to the taxation of the people, and when extravagance in public service has become a contagious plague."

Hon. Patrick A. Collins, of Mass., was chosen temporary chairman and made a brief address in taking the chair. Temporary secretaries were also chosen. A delegate from North Carolina offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the chairman be requested to transmit to the President of the United States the respectful sympathy of the members of the Association of Democratic Clubs, in his days of anxiety, and to express their earnest hope that Mrs. Harrison may, in God's own good time, be restored to health.

The resolution was adopted with a chorus of ayes.

Dr. Antonin Dvorak.

Dr. Antonin Dvorak, the great composer, who has just taken charge of the National Conservatory of Music in New York, is under control here for three years. Like many other great musicians, Dr. Dvorak sprang of humble parentage. His father, Franz Dvorak, was the village butcher. He was born Sept. 8, 1841. It was not until October, 1857, that young Antonin secured the permission of his father to adopt music rather than butchering as his life's work. He began to compose early, but most of his efforts he kept to himself until 1873, when he was appointed organist of St. Adalbert's church. He then married and celebrated the event by writing the cantata "The Heirs of the White Mountains." A Berlin publisher took him up and published his "Slavonic Dances." These were played in London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna, and Theodore Thomas brought them forward in New York in 1879. In 1883 the London Musical Society performed his "Stabat Mater," which created a sensation. He subsequently composed "The Spectre's Bride" for the Birmingham choral festival in 1885, "St. Ludmilla" for that of Leeds in 1886, and a number of other cantatas which became equally famed. They were all rendered afterward in this country. From that time Dvorak's popularity and renown have grown until he has become one of the foremost of living composers, and the man who once could only earn $9 a month has now a position guaranteed for three years at a salary of $15,000 per annum. His name is pronounced "Dvorshak."

PHOSPHATES IN BAKING POWDERS.

Prof. H. C. White, State Chemist of Georgia, gave this subject attention, and wrote: "I have been familiar for a number of years with the general character of Prof. Horsford's phosphatic preparations. Recent examinations made by me of his baking powder show it to be exactly what is claimed for it. When mixed with water a double phosphate is formed and remains in the bread when baked. In ordinary cream tartar baking powders the substance left in the bread after raising is rochelle salts—a double tartrate. The phosphates are useful substances in animal nutrition and growth, the tartrates are not. In my opinion, the phosphatic powder is, therefore, preferable to others, so far as healthfulness is concerned."

MAINE MELANGE.

A Possible Jail Bird Entertained Unawares.

Another Enterprising Town to be Lighted by Electricity.

Androscoggin.

A Lewiston lady went to the door the other evening and was confronted by a haggard looking man who inquired the way to Sabattis. He was a sandy complexioned man and was evidently sick. After she told him the way he asked for something to eat and she gave it to him. He came into the dining room and ate some bread and pie. He said that it hurt him to walk but that he was going to walk out of the State. He said he came from Auburn, where he had been for several days. In leaving he requested that inasmuch as she had not suffered at his hands she would say nothing about the call he had made her. After he was gone she noticed that he walked with one hand pressed to his side as if in pain, and the thought came to her that he must be wounded. Her husband thinks that perhaps she had fed Victor McPhee, the escaped jail bird of Paris. Victor answers somewhat to the description and carries a revolver bullet in his side. He escaped from the jail at Paris by the help of some one who passed a pillow case of tools up to him from below the jail window, and must have been helped on his way somewhat. If it was Victor he could not have got very far toward New Brunswick.

Rev. Mr. Hayden, of Auburn, has received several calls, and has just declined a call to the Universalist church in Hamilton, N. J., but he has decided to remain in Auburn for the winter, hoping that another rest of six months will renew his strength to the desirable working pitch. He is already gaining slowly, but is not advised to presume too much on the strength he now has. He preached once, recently, but remained sitting.

Cumberland.

Officer White, of Portland, early Saturday morning, heard cries for help and found a man named Charles Holmes, hanging to a spile at Hamlen's wharf. With the aid of two fishermen the man was rescued. He had been in the water two hours.

About forty-two tons, or half of the weaving machinery for the new plush mill, at South Portland, has arrived in Boston and will be shipped immediately.

It is hoped to have the remodelled Athletic Association club house, at Portland, ready for occupancy January 1st.

A hard case came to the attention of the Portland police Saturday night. A poor widow named Mary Riche lives in a portion of the house No 34 Greenleaf street, with her two children. It is said that on account of sickness, or for other reasons, she had been unable to pay her rent. At any rate a notice was served on her to vacate the house October 17. The notice, which was signed "Mary A. Flannery, by Thomas F. Flannery, agent," is now in the possession of the police. Saturday night Deputy Marshal Chase was called to the house and found that a man, whom he recognized as Flannery, was taking out the windows of Mrs. Riche's rent. The deputy marshal put them back, threatening Flannery with arrest when the latter objected. Saturday night was very cold and windy, and the poor woman would have suffered but for the interference of the police. Flannery's object seems to have been to rid himself of his tenant although the notice served gave her until the 17th to move.

Steamer Alice will be withdrawn from the Falmouth Foreside route to-day and will take the place of the Isis on the Cape route for the People's Ferry Company. The Isis will be hauled up for the winter. It was first thought to charter the Chebeague, but it was found that it would be inconvenient in making the landings. The Alice will remain on the ferry service until a new double ender is secured, which will probably be accomplished before a great while. A temporary landing has just been finished at the Cape.

Leonard A. Porter, of Porter's Freeport express, notified the police that he left a valise containing $500 in checks and bills in the doorway of Henry Sargent's store on Commercial wharf, Portland, Saturday forenoon, and returning found it gone. Mr. W. H. Stevens, of the firm of Stevens & Co., put a slightly different aspect to the story, as he says that the valise was found in the street in front of his place of business about 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and was taken in and kept for safe keeping until afternoon. In the meantime the owner was trying to be found, and later the valise was returned to him unopened.

Kennebec.

Mayor Chase, of Augusta, has presented to the Natural History Society a file of Edes' Kennebec Intelligencer and Gazette for the years 1798, 1799, 1801, 1802. These are among the first papers published in Augusta. Mr. Edes was a fellow workman of Benjamin Franklin. This is a most valuable addition to the archieves of the Society, as these copies are very rare. The generosity of Mayor Chase will be appreciated by those interested in the work of the society.

There was on exhibition at the James E. Fuller Co.'s market, in Augusta, the other day, an immense marrowfat squash which had the marvellous avoirdupois of 105 pounds. It was raised by Mrs. Carter, a resident on the Belfast road, who states that it was used equally well with other and smaller marrowfats on the same vine, receiving no especial care. It is evidently a large-sized freak of Dame Nature.

An Augusta man has a very rare and valuable coin, a United States dollar of the year 1804. It is now in the possession of Mr. Frank T. Noble, who was fortunate to run across it while on a business trip through the State last week. It is in a remarkably fine state of preservation. Although the coin has no market value it is sold at auctions from $600 to $800.

Mrs. Hannah Libbey, of Augusta, suffered a painful and rather peculiar accident on Saturday. She was standing in the stable when a strong gust of wind blew the stable door to, striking her with such force as to knock her down and break the large bone of her left forearm. About a year ago she broke the other arm and cracked several ribs.

The new library at Augusta is a general theme of conversation wherever Augustans are in conversation. A great deal of interest is being manifested in getting it and the pride in possessing it will doubtless be even greater. A few more thousand dollar bequests would be very acceptable and there are rumors that one or two more contemplate making such bequests.

George Keen, aged thirteen, and two companions were in the woods on Malta hill, Augusta, Saturday. A revolver in the hands of one of the boys was accidentally discharged, the ball striking the Keen boy in the right arm. The ball was probed for but was not recovered.

Considerable interest has been shown in Pittsfield in the disposition of the liquor cases pending against Fiske and Thompson, proprietors of the Lancey House, as the house has been closed for a week and no signs of re-opening are seen. Judge Haskell construes the penalty attached to the fine under the indictment for drinking house and tippling shop to mean jail, and the county attorney pressing the same to sane, the proprietors are confronted with an array of witnesses against them, and their own admissions in the Pittsfield Advertiser as to sales of liquor, and conclude to demur to the indictments, which is virtually a plea of guilty, as the most they can hope to accomplish now is delay. They furnished bail in the sum of $2,500.

A man who was intoxicated, jumped from the four o'clock Rochester train, Saturday afternoon, just beyond Hollis. He rolled over and over down the embankment, but wasn't hurt.

Tells All About the Indians.

Latest Publication In Its Line, Entitled "Life and Scenes Among the Kickapoo Indians"—Contains Nearly Two Hundred Pages—Sent Free to Everybody.

In order to make the public familiar with the habits, manners, customs and history of one of the oldest tribes of American Indians extant we have published at great expense a large edition of a work, entitled "Life and Scenes Among the Kickapoo Indians." All their peculiarities, traditions, habits, in fact, their whole life and customs are told in a manner which will interest the reader and hold attention to the end. This book also explains our connection with the tribe, how it came about and what has come from it. The book, however, is in no sense a mere advertising pamphlet, but one well worth a dollar if it were published to be sold. We shall not publish another edition for public distribution and after the present one is exhausted, the book will either be out of print or sold by the book dealers at the price named above.

While this edition lasts we will send a copy free to all who apply, enclosing three 2 cent stamps to pay cost of postage.

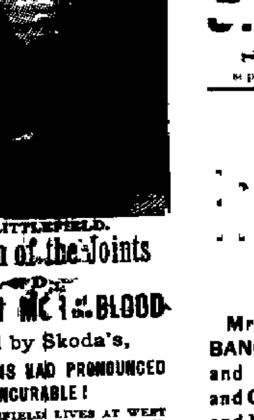

If you want it, send now and save disappointment.

Rheumatism of the Joints AND INFECTED HUMOR IN THE BLOOD

Banished by Skoda's,

AFTER PHYSICIANS HAD PRONOUNCED THEM INCURABLE!

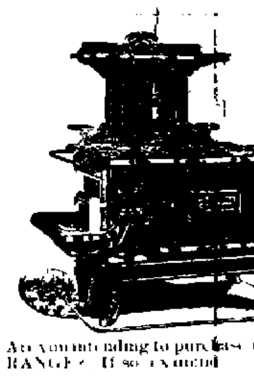

MARCUS LITTLEFIELD LIVES AT WEST WINTERPORT, ME. A FARMER BY OCCUPATION, HE ENJOYS THE RESPECT OF ALL WHO KNOW HIM. IN CONVERSATION WITH A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE SKODA DISCOVERY CO., NOT LONG SINCE HE RELATED THE FOLLOWING STORY:

"Ever since I was born, I have been troubled at times, more or less, with a HUMOR on my hands, face and neck. For fifteen years it has been on the increase, I have been gradually failing in health, and for three years past it has itched and burned so badly, that all the way I could get any rest at night, was to bathe in strong carbolic acid, and this only relieved me for a few hours. In addition to this, ... Rheumatism in my back ... so out of place ... I did not have my clothes off. Physicians said I could never get well. I was unable to do any work, and was a great sufferer. I doctored with several Physicians, including Specialists in Boston, and took nearly all the advertised sarsaparillas and blood purifiers, but received no benefit whatever. I had given up all hopes, and my friends thought I could live but a few months. I began the use of SKODA'S DISCOVERY and TABLETS, according to directions, and also used SKODA'S OINTMENT externally. After using ... was a visible ..."

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

For President:

BENJAMIN HARRISON,

OF INDIANA.

For Vice President:

WHITELAW REID,

OF NEW YORK.

FOR PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS.

For Electors at Large:

THOMAS W. HYDE, of Bath.
WILLIAM M. NASH, of Cherryfield.
First District—E. M. GOODALL.
Second District—M. C. WEDGWOOD.
Third District—A. W. WILDES.
Fourth District—RODNEY C. PENNEY.

Gen. Hawley stated the case very clearly when he said that "free trade is the surviving partner of slavery." The workingmen of to-day would do well to remember this fact when they go to the polls next month.

The New York Tribune says "Congressman Charles A. Boutelle, of Maine, one of the most popular Republican orators in the country, will begin his campaign in New York this week. On Wednesday evening he will address the Republicans of Brooklyn, and the next night he will speak in Ithaca. From there he goes to Western New York."

An example of the growth of the American tin-plate industry was afforded the other day when the steamship Manhanset arrived from Bristol and Swansea. On her previous trip from these two ports she had a cargo of 18,000 boxes of tin-plate from Bristol and 9,532 boxes from Swansea. This time she came into port with 440 boxes from Bristol and 522 boxes from Swansea.

The Wisconsin Supreme Court has denied the motion of Senator Vilas' attorney for leave to interpose an answer in the legislative apportionment case and ordered judgment for relief asked by the relator, thus finally closing the case against the Secretary of State and in favor of the relator, C. F. Lamb. An extra session of the Legislature to enact a new law will be called, probably at an early day.

The Republicans are well pleased with the returns from the town elections in Connecticut. The Nutmeg State has had a bad fashion of giving its electoral vote to the Democrats, but there are encouraging indications that this year the people will vote for their own interests by turning the State into the Republican column. In the elections just held the Republicans hold the gains made last year, and as the State is very close it will only require a small change to give the electoral vote to the Republicans.

When the delegation called at his hotel to urge Senator Hill to go with them for a conference with Mr. Cleveland, the Senator replied "I am very busy, and do not see how I can spare the time to-night." The delegation left and then the Senator stepped across the street and passed the evening at the Casino. No doubt it was a much pleasanter way of passing the evening, but it was not highly complimentary to Cleveland, and does not indicate an extraordinary degree of harmony in the Democratic ranks.

The Boston Herald declares that the argument on the silver question is illogical. There is one argument, however, that our Mugwump contemporary cannot get away from and that is the record of the Democrats in Congress. The vote on the free coinage bill in the House showed a Democratic majority of 49 for the measure and a Republican majority against it of 56. In the Senate the Democratic majority for the bill was 21 and the Republican majority against it was 17. These figures clear away the columns of mere froth in the Herald and reveal the Democrats in their true character as a free coinage party.

The Democratic National Committee is sending out circulars to the Grand Army veterans in the hope of winning over votes for Cleveland. The indignation of the soldiers is increased by this pettifogging attempt to smooth them down and one lot of the circulars was returned with the following letter:

CONSACKIE, N. Y., Oct. 1, 1892.
Theodore F. Reed, Secretary.

Dear Sir—We take the liberty of returning the inclosed circulars and cards. The idea of sending such literature to those who risked their lives to save the country which the Democracy sought to destroy, seems the height of impudence and deserves the condemnation of all veterans.

Trusting that your circulars will have the same effect upon other veterans that it does upon the writers, we remain, yours respectfully,

M. H. GREENE,
WILLIAM D. COLLINS, M. D.,
J. B. Van Wie (twenty-seven years a Democrat, but now a Republican.)

Lieutenant Governor Sheehan, who is a member of the New York Democratic State Committee, and who is now being coddled by Cleveland in the most sickening manner, was interviewed in the World last June and said "If he (Cleveland) were nominated he could not be elected. The action of the Minneapolis Convention settled that point. Harrison defeated Cleveland four years ago. He is no weaker now than he was then. He is stronger. He has given his party everything it wanted. He has made one of the best Presidents that the Republican party has given us. The Democracy must put up its strongest men to defeat Harrison and Reid. Senator Hill is the strongest candidate whose name will be presented at Chicago." The entire New York machine entertained similar views and it is to these men that Cleveland has to look for his election. If the Democrats can find encouragement in this situation they are welcome to it.

An interesting contribution to current political discussion is that of a manufacturer of hosiery in Laconia, New Hampshire, who makes a ...

says: It is well to compare the present attitude of the Democratic party and its candidates on the tariff question with that of the past. In parallel columns below we quote the Democratic National platform of 1832 and 1892, with declarations by Andrew Jackson and Grover Cleveland.

Platform of 1832.	Platform of 1892.
Resolved, That adequate protection to American industry is indispensable to the prosperity of the country and that an abandonment of the policy at this period would be attended with consequences ruinous to the best interests of the nation.	We denounce Republican protection as a fraud, a robbery of the great majority of the American people for the benefit of the few. We declare it to be a fundamental principle of the Democratic party that the Federal Government has no constitutional power to impose and collect tariff duties except for the purpose of revenue only.
Heaven smiled upon and gave us liberty and independence. The same Providence has blessed us with the means of national independence and national defence. If we omit or refuse to use the gifts which He has extended to us, we deserve not the continuation of His blessings. He has filled our mountains and our plains with minerals, lead, iron, and copper and given us a climate and soil for the growing of hemp and wool. These being the grand materials of our national defense, they ought to have extended to them adequate and fair protection, that our own manufactories and laborers may be placed on a fair competition with those of Europe, and that we may have within our own country a supply of those leading and important articles so essential to war. — Andrew Jackson's Letter to Dr. Coleman, April 21, 1824.	Such a proposition (Protection to American industries) is so clearly contrary to the spirit of our Constitution and so directly encourages the disturbance, by selfishness and greed of patriotic sentiment, that its statement would rudely shock our people if they had not already been insidiously allured from the safe land-marks of principle. Never have honest desire for national growth, patriotic devotion to country, and sincere regard for those who toil been so betrayed to the support of a pernicious doctrine. — Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance, September 26, 1892.

Is Grover Cleveland's a better Democrat than Andrew Jackson was?

Protection in New Jersey.

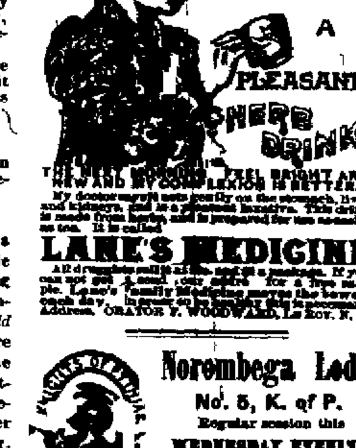

The official report of labor statistics recently compiled by Commissioner Peck, of New York State, is not the only one that shows the improved condition of the laboring man since the McKinley law went into operation. The official documents recording the savings of labor in New Jersey, recently made public, are crammed with facts which conclusively prove that the party of protection has done and is doing the greatest good to the workingmen in New Jersey as well as in New York State.

The reports of New Jersey's savings institutions alone should be a sufficient argument to convince every thoughtful man of this. The total assets of these banks have increased from $31,895,309 in the year 1889 to $36,875,745 in 1892, a gain of nearly $5,000,000. The books of deposit show that these savings are made chiefly by the working classes. That they are the savings of men employed in protected industries is proven by the fact that the bulk of these assets come from the manufacturing centers in Essex, Hudson, Passaic, Mercer and Middlesex counties.

There is still stronger proof, however, that New Jersey workingmen have found prosperity under protection. The Building and Loan Associations furnish this proof. The report of Commissioner James Bishop, who is, like Mr. Peck, a Democrat, shows that the number of these associations increased in one year from 254 to 272, the number of shares from 438,000 to 518,000; the number of shareholders from 71,700 to 78,790, and the net assets from $25,000,000 to $25,600,000; an increase of 7 per cent. in the number of associations, 18 per cent. in the number of shareholders, and 16 per cent. in net assets.

These two reports of Commissioner Bishop alone furnish proof of Republican prosperity that cannot be perverted by the Democratic papers or stump speakers. They show that New Jersey's wage-earners are rapidly progressing in condition under the McKinley tariff, and are yearly putting away millions in the savings banks of the State. There is no apparent decrease in the earnings of workingmen in any part of the State, and this gives encouragement to the hope that the Democrats may be overthrown on both the State and National tickets this fall.

Set right—all the proper functions of womanhood. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the remedy. It regulates and promotes their action, and removes the obstructions and suppressions which cause trouble and misery. At the two critical periods in a woman's life—the change from girlhood to womanhood, and, later, the "change of life"—it is a perfectly safe and an especially valuable remedial agent, that can produce only good results.

It's a powerful, invigorating tonic, and a soothing and strengthening nervine; a legitimate medicine—purely vegetable, perfectly harmless—and carefully adapted, by an experienced physician, to woman's delicate needs.

For all the derangements, irregularities, and weaknesses peculiar to the sex, the "Favorite Prescription" is a remedy so certain that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't give satisfaction in every case, the money is returned. No other medicine for women is sold in this way.

No other medicine can be.

RUN ON A ROCK

A Calais Schooner Badly Damaged.

NORWALK, Conn., Oct. 4. Shortly after daylight this morning the big two masted schooner Abner Taylor, of Calais, Me., with a large cargo of lumber consigned to Westport parties, while attempting to enter the Saugatuck river, three miles below Westport village, ran upon a sunken rock off Hendrick's Point. The vessel was in tow of the tug Ada V., of this city, and piloted by John Allen, of Saugatuck.

Capt. Allen knew of the rock, but owing to the unfavorable tide and wind was unable to prevent the casualty. At low water the schooner settled on the rock, leaving an immense hole in the hull and opening her seams so that with the rising tide she speedily filled. All day men have been busy lightening her, and lumber is being constructed into rafts and towed up the river to its destination. It is expected the schooner will be floated to-morrow. She is very badly damaged.

BAPTIST CONVENTION.

Interesting Sessions of Tuesday.

WATERVILLE, Oct. 4. The Maine Baptist missionary convention to-day was presided over by President William H. Spencer, of this city. After devoting an hour to the president's address and announcement of routine committees the annual sermon upon "Christian qualities as exemplified in John the Baptist," was preached by Rev. C. E. Young.

The obituary report by Rev. A. N. Day showed the death of two active preachers during the year and five former supporters. The report of the treasurer, John B. Foster, showed the receipts for the year, $14,231.23, expenditures, $14,180; permanent fund now $59,482.96. The report of the committee on the state of religion by Rev E. A. Mason showed 252 Baptist churches in the State, a gain of two from last year. Of these 178 have pastors and seventy-four without any preaching services.

There has been a total loss in membership of 427. Gains in Sunday school attendance and in young people's societies were reported. The trustees' report showing a fairly favorable condition in the State, was read by Dr. A. T. Dunn, secretary.

This evening at 7 o'clock the annual meeting of the Maine Baptist Charitable Society was addressed by Dr. A. K. P. Small. The rest of the evening was devoted to the ...

Massachusetts Republicans Ratify the Nominations.

Hon. Whitelaw Reid, Gov. McKinley and Others Speak.

Two Great Gatherings at Music and Faneuil Halls.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 4. Music Hall and Faneuil Hall were both filled to overflowing to-night when the Republicans ratified their State and national nominations, with ringing speeches by Hon. Whitelaw Reid, Gov. William McKinley, Lieutenant Governor Haile and Hon. Robert Wolcott, the two latter being the nominees for Governor and Lieutenant Governor respectively.

Hon. W. E. Barrett presided and was flanked by a large number of leading men of the party who were seated upon the platform. After a short introductory speech Hon. Whitelaw Reid was presented as the first speaker of the evening.

Mr. Reid's Speech.

Mr. Reid stated briefly the achievements of the Republican party and then, in substance, said:

At every step in this magnificent march it was resisted in whole or in part, by the Democratic party, which resists it now.

At every step it was sustained by brawn and brain, by the men and money of Massachusetts. There are those who say Massachusetts will resist it now. I do not believe this aspersion. But this State, if she should vote now and on the issues of to-day against the Republican party, would indict one of the most glorious periods and many of the most glorious names of her own history.

The Republican party is now in power. The country is peaceful, contented and prosperous beyond precedent. Shall we thereupon make a radical and sweeping change? If so why? I challenge the judgment of the candid and intelligent business men of Boston, whatever their politics, on the proposition that the changes, if actually carried out by the Democratic party as they are demanded by the Democratic platform, would prove for a year or two, at any rate, the greatest and most since the war. The Democratic party gazes in perplexity and alarm on a candidate who accepts its nomination, but has not yet shown either the candor to accept or courage to repudiate its principles.

Mr. Cleveland now acts toward the platform of his party as if he were afraid that should he venture to step on it, it would break through. He tries to quiet alarm by saying free trade is impossible. However much Mr. Cleveland may regard it, as an honorable man he is bound hand and foot to the platform of his party at Chicago, just as all the world to-day knows that he is bound to the car of "triumphant" Tammany in New York.

Never since 1864 have our opponents disclosed so plainly the real spirit that controls their majority and actual incapacity to comprehend their country or their times. Mr. Reid said his party had nominees who were not afraid of its principles and it challenged the verdict of the American people on the character, ability and safe and brilliantly successful administration of Benjamin Harrison.

Gov McKinley Given an Ovation.

At the conclusion of Mr. Reid's speech Gov. McKinley was introduced and received an ovation as he rose to speak. He devoted the first part of his address to a discussion of the old State bank system. The Republican party, he said, stands first for protection and encouragement of American industries, and second for honest currency. The Democratic contention is for free trade and a debased currency.

The speaker quoted from reports to show the evil effects of the old State bank system, which cost the government millions of money. For 30 years the Democratic leaders had been financially unsound. We have as good a currency now as there is anywhere, because the government is behind it, and every dollar is as good as any other dollar. Our dollar should be as unsullied as our flag, said the speaker. "Free trade shaves down the wages of the laborer and pays him in depreciated State currency. One reduces wages and the other

Cheats Him in the Payment.

That is the Democratic platform of 1892."

He took issue with Mr. Hill in the statement that protection is unconstitutional. Said he: "I know of but one constitution it violates and that is the constitution of the Confederate States. But we are not living under that constitution now."

Mr. McKinley then passed to the discussion of the tariff, and at its conclusion was followed by Lieutenant Governor Haile and Hon. Roger Wolcott, who had just addressed the meeting in Faneuil Hall, to which place Messrs. Reid and McKinley were taken after their Music Hall speeches.

At Faneuil Hall

there was another large crowd that filled the hall and corridors to suffocation, while the galleries contained many ladies. Postmaster Thomas N. Hart presided here and in a short speech introduced Lieutenant Governor Haile as the first speaker. He was followed by Hon. Roger Wolcott.

When Mr. Reid appeared on the platform he was greeted with deafening cheers. His speech was the same as that delivered at Music Hall. Gov. McKinley came in for more cheers when he was introduced as the last speaker. He spoke almost wholly on the tariff.

WANTS THE MONEY.

Receiver of Iron Hall Writes Threatening Letters.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 4. A letter has been received in this city by the officers of the local branch of the Iron Hall from F. J. Falley, of Indianapolis, receiver of the supreme body, in which he demands all money in the hands of the branch. He threatens if the money is not turned over to him to bring suit against the branch, and one of the penalties provided in event of failure to comply with the demand is that the branch will forfeit all its rights to the final dividend. Similar letters have been received by every branch in the State.

THE GRANITE TROUBLE.

Some Dissensions in Barre, Vt.

BARRE, Vt., Oct. 4. The local granite dealers claim that the cutters have broken their agreement in two ways, first in discriminating against firms having no journeymen tool-sharpeners, and second, in not leaving the present trouble to arbitration, as provided for in the agreement. The union cutters are fast leaving the sheds where only the apprentice tool-sharpeners are. One dealer lost ten cutters this afternoon. The cutters claim the right to leave a shed when they desire as individual workmen. The dealers having no journeymen sharpeners have had no chance to engage cutters this week. The union has assessed the cutters 50 cents a day.

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., Oct. 4. Henri Trippet, a minister of the French church, who is under bonds for performing marriages without authority, has left town, leaving a wife and child destitute. He came here eight months ago and started the building of a church. It is said he has a wife and six children in France. He won many friends here and obtained money for his church.

SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES.

Surrounding the Death of Bank Wrecker Dann.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 4. A post mortem has been ordered in the case of Edward S. Dann, the bank wrecker, whose death is surrounded by circumstances suspicious enough to warrant an investigation and an autopsy will be held this afternoon. Matters of great financial importance are involved in the result. Should it reveal suicide the heavy insurance which it is said Dann carried on his life, will probably not be paid, as it is said the policies stipulate that they are to be at once null and void in case of self-destruction.

ARGUMENTS CONCLUDED

In the New York Apportionment Law Case

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 4. The arguments against the constitutionality of the apportionment law were concluded at 11.50 A. M. Attorney General Rosendale then made an argument for the Democrats and answered all points raised by the opponents of the law. The court at 2 o'clock took the papers and reserved decision.

DEMOCRATIC CLUBS

The Proceedings of the New York Convention.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4. At the afternoon session of the convention of the Democratic clubs, the report of the committee on credentials announced that there were no contests. The time at the disposal of the committee it said, did not allow it to complete even a list of the clubs represented, much less a list of the delegates. There had been 4,760 on the rolls of the convention, but to-day that number had increased to more than 5,200. The report of the committee on organization in favor of making the temporary officers of the convention permanent officers, was adopted.

There was read a communication from Margaret Hoey, secretary of the Woman's Influence Democratic Club, announcing that over 100 woman's influence clubs throughout the country had been organized. This was received with cheers. Resolutions were adopted reaffirming the platform of principles adopted by the late Democratic national convention; endorsing the nomination of Cleveland and Stevenson; urging the institution of Democratic clubs in every voting district of the union; warning the American people of one "danger which menaces their common liberties in the manifest purpose of managers of the monopoly to debauch the suffrage to purchase another lease of the Presidency and another majority in Congress and ultimately to take permanent possession of the Federal government through the provisions of an unconstitutional and partisan force bill, designed by corrupt and unscrupulous conspirators and endorsed by Benjamin Harrison and a so-called Republican convention of office holders and monopolists," and denouncing as un-American and unconstitutional the pillage of the people for benefit of the few by unjust tax laws; the squandering of the people's money in profligate expenditure, in subsidies and in jobs, and demand a return to lower and more frugal expenditures and purer government which can be accomplished only by the election of Cleveland and Stevenson.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing four years: Chauncey F. Black, Pennsylvania, president; Lawrence Gardner, Washington, D. C., secretary; Roswell P. Flower, New York, treasurer. A vice president from each State and territory was also chosen, including the following: Connecticut, Daniel N. Morgan; Maine, John B. Donovan; Massachusetts, Wm. E. Russell; New Hampshire, W. W. Cochrane; New York, Barlow S. Weeks; Rhode Island, David S. Baker, Jr. The convention at 4.05 o'clock adjourned sine die.

KEEPING UP HIS COURAGE.

Cleveland is "Pleased" With the State of Affairs.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4. Ex-President Cleveland will leave the city for Gray Gables at 5.30 to-morrow afternoon via the Fall River Line. He will return to this city next week with his family. They will go direct to their new home on West 51st street. The ex-President was very busy to-day at his hotel. In regard to the campaign he said: "I am very much pleased with the enthusiasm and interest which is shown on all sides by the Democrats of New York. There is certainly a favorable outlook for the success of the Democratic party."

He has accepted the invitation of the committee of one hundred to review the Columbus celebration parade and may stand side by side with President Harrison, who has also accepted the committee's invitation to be present. It is expected that they will dine together at the banquet given at Lenox Lyceum on the evening of Oct. 13th.

IMPORTANT DECISIONS

In Suits of Electric Companies.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4. In the United States Court of Appeals to-day in the cases of the Electric Accumulator Company of this city, and the Consolidated Electric Street Car Company of Philadelphia, against the Brush Electric Company the decision of the circuit court in favor the Brush Company that the storage battery system used by the plaintiffs is an infringement on the patents held by that company, were sustained.

The decision of the circuit court in the suit of the Brush-Swan Electric Lighting Co. against the Smith Electric Co., which was in favor of the plaintiffs, and an order was made sustaining the suit with costs to the plaintiff of both courts.

These chilly days are making a lively demand for gas stoves and one a day last week was the average number furnished by Mr. Dole. A new one, put in Monday, is a beauty as the closest resemblance to a coal fire that can probably be obtained. They are a decided ornament as well as a great convenience.

... Of the W. H. Smith Property in this City Tuesday.

Much attention among our prominent citizens was attracted by the announcement that the homestead of W. H. Smith, Esq., at the corner of West Broadway and Cedar streets, and one-sixth undivided interest in Kenduskeag and Exchange blocks, were to be sold at auction, and yesterday when the sale occurred there was a large attendance of prospective purchasers.

The sale was conducted by Mr Charles S. Pearl and the handsome homestead was first disposed of at 11 o'clock. Mr. Pearl stated that the terms were cash when the deed from the assignee was delivered, while the taxes for the year were to be paid by the seller. The property was to be sold subject to dower. It is a fine property, the lot being over 250 feet front and extending back over 350 feet, while the handsome and substantially built house has over a dozen rooms. There is also a good stable in the rear of the residence.

The bidding was started at $5,000 by Capt. F. W. Goodwin and it then advanced to $6,000, $7,000 and $8,500, the latter bid being by Mr. C. P Webber. It was then continued by Mr Webber and Mr. J. M. Daggett. The former's bids were $8,650, $8,750, $8,850 and $8,900. Mr Daggett's were $8,600, $8,700, $8,800 and $8,875, but Mr Webber's being the highest the property went to him.

At noon the one-sixth interest in Kenduskeag and Exchange blocks was sold. Many of the prominent citizens who had attended the other sale were present while many who had not been there were in attendance. Mr Pearl stated that the sale was made by order of the assignee, Hon E. B. Neally, and it also was subject to dower. The net income was $6,356.

The first bid of $16,000, was made by Chief Justice J A Peters, P A Strickland, Esq., bid $17,000, C. P Stetson, Esq., $17,500, Mr Strickland $18,000, Mr Stetson $19,000, Mr Strickland, $19,500, Mr Stetson $20,000, Mr Thornton Lyford $20,100. Mr Strickland and Mr Lyford did the rest of the bidding. Mr Lyford's bids were $20,100, $20,250, $20,350, $20,450, and Mr. Strickland's, $20,200, $20,300 and $20,400. Mr. Lyford being the highest bidder secured the property. The purchaser has the rents which become due this month. The investment is considered to be a good one by financial judges.

Care of the Sick

One of the most helpful and important series of talks that have been given in our city for some time will be those given by Mrs. D. H. Kinney, of the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston. The talks are on "The Care of the Sick" and are for women only. There will doubtless be a large number present as Mrs. Kinney comes highly recommended, not only as one familiar with the subject, but as a most interesting lecturer. At the close of each lecture Mrs. Kinney will meet the ladies in the parlor to answer the many questions the ladies will want to ask. This will add greatly to the value of the talk. The first lecture will be given to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock and will be surgical and medical emergencies. It will include simple bandaging and dressing, the hasty ...

Another Splendid Course During the Coming Winter.

It will be gratifying to a large number of our citizens to learn that there will be another course of Central Club lectures the coming winter and also that the speakers will, as usual, be the best that the country affords.

Rev. G. W. Field, D. D., has been corresponding with a number of eminent lecturers and has secured the services of several, but as yet the dates have not been determined upon. They soon will be fixed, however, so that the course may begin at the customary time, the middle or latter part of November, and continue through March.

Rev. Dr. Field has received assurances of lectures from Mrs. Livermore, who will speak during the latter part of the course, Prof. Henry L Chapman, of Bowdoin College, George Makepeace Towle, and President Whitman, of Colby University. It is hoped that ex-Speaker Thomas B Reed may be heard during the course. Rev Dr Field has written to Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D. D., Col T W. Higginson, Rev John Fiske, Rev Reuen Thomas, D. D., Eli Perkins and others but has as yet received no reply. It can be relied upon, however, that the lecturers will be eminent speakers with a varied range of interesting subjects. A definite arrangement of the course will be made before long.

There will probably be eight lectures and two concerts and possibly more, so that the course may furnish two parts of the series a month. The musical talent has not yet been secured, but the concerts will be of a most pleasing nature.

The lectures and concerts will, as has been the custom in years past, occur in the Central church, and those who have previously attended will look forward with pleasure to the opening of the course, while many new faces will doubtless be seen among the audiences.

THE KING'S DAUGHTERS

Full Attendance Requested at To-day's Meeting at the Memorial Parlors

A meeting of the King's Daughters Union will be held to-day at 4 P. M. at the Memorial Parlors and the following request for a full attendance will doubtless be regarded:

Dear King's Daughters:

I want to remind each one of you of the meeting of our union this afternoon at four o'clock in the Memorial Parlors.

Behind us lie the summer weeks with all they have brought us of rest and recreation. Before us are the winter months in which we are to use the strength we have gained. How to use it in our benevolent work in the most effective way, how with the least outlay to get the best results is one among many important things which we are to discuss at this meeting.

We want the experience of the older members and the enthusiasm of the younger ones. We cannot well spare a single King's daughter.

Let us, if possible, put aside even the strong reasons which sometimes keep us at home, and come to this meeting determined, each one of us, to do all that she can in His name.

Sousa's Band

Manager F. A. Owen, of the Opera House has secured Sousa's Band for a concert on Thanksgiving eve, and the occasion will be an important musical event. The band is composed of fifty first-class musicians and there will be several singers besides including Signor Galassi, the baritone who gave such excellent satisfaction at the Gilmore concerts. Mr Sousa was formerly leader of the Marine Band, of Washington, D. C., one of the largest and best in the country. He is one of the most prominent composers of band music in the world and his pieces are played everywhere. It is probable that he will take the place in the musical world left vacant by the lamented Gilmore and it would seem that his mantle would fall on worthy shoulders. It is expected that the coming concert will be very enjoyable and the Opera House will doubtless be filled.

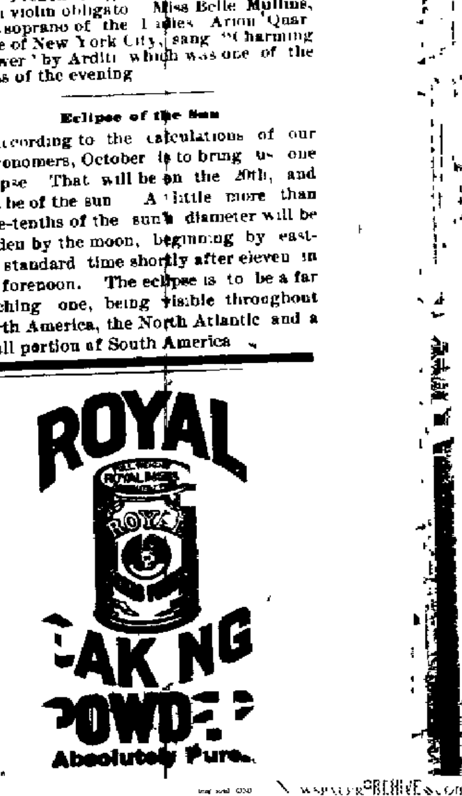

Ladies Arion Quartette

Next Friday evening the Ladies Arion Quartette will give a concert at the Universalist church under the auspices of the Y. P. C. U. and a very pleasant entertainment may be expected as all are said to be excellent singers while a novel and enjoyable programme will be presented. The Boston Times of March 21st, 1892 has the following:

The complimentary concert given to Mrs C. May French by some of our best talent last Monday evening, was a successful as well as an enjoyable occasion. Mrs French sang a very pleasing song with violin obligato. Miss Belle Mullins, first soprano of the Ladies Arion Quartette of New York City, sang "Charming Flower" by Arditi which was one of the gems of the evening.

Eclipse of the Sun

According to the calculations of our astronomers, October is to bring us one eclipse. That will be on the 20th, and will be of the sun. A little more than nine-tenths of the sun's diameter will be hidden by the moon, beginning by eastern standard time shortly after eleven in the forenoon. The eclipse is to be a far reaching one, being visible throughout North America, the North Atlantic and a small portion of South America.

Railroads and Rheumatism.

Two Important Factors in the Life of Passenger Agent Tooker.

One of the most popular passenger agents in the United States as well as one of the ablest, is Mr. M. B. Tooker of the Grand Trunk R.R. His home is at Suspension Bridge, N.Y.

Mr. Tooker, whose portrait is printed here, is known everywhere as a man of great energy and push. His advice has always gone a long way in railroad matters, and he is possessed of those rare qualities which make him a good friend and adviser in every-day matters of life.

Several years ago Mr. Tooker was a sufferer from that very common complaint rheumatism, which has been notably prevalent for the last few years. As every one knows it is one of the most painful of diseases, and until a recent discovery of Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth College, was considered almost always incurable.

Mr. Tooker's experience was very much like that of scores of people in probably every town large enough to have a drug store.

"For two years," says Mr. Tooker, "I suffered from rheumatism and kidney trouble for which I tried various remedies with no success. A clergyman advised me to try Paine's celery compound. I did so and was surprised at the effect. After taking one bottle I was entirely relieved. I have taken two bottles and am cured."

As a well-known and conservative physician has said, "Paine's celery compound is generally considered a certain specific for the cure of rheumatism, and so much better results are obtained from it than from all the usual remedies, that it has become a regular prescription among the most eminent practitioners. I prescribe it regularly and believe that every rheumatic victim should use it."

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS

A Scaly, Itching, Skin Disease with Endless Suffering Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty eight years ago it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 47, in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases,") but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.

DENNIS DOWNING, Waterbury, Vt.

The water in the wells about the city is rather low and a good heavy rainstorm to fill them would please many people.

The Y. P. S. C. E. social committee, connected with the First Congregational church, held a business meeting last evening.

A special meeting of the United Fellowship Relief Association will be held this evening in Harlow's Hall, at 7.30 o'clock.

A harvest concert is to be held at the Congregational church in Holden on next Sunday evening, and preparations for the event, which is expected to be an excellent one, are now going on.

Mr. Malcolm McKinsey, one of the employes at the Dirigo mills, was suddenly taken ill, Monday, while at his work and was taken to his home, in Bangor. He is threatened with typhoid fever.

The business of Littlefield's pants factory is increasing so rapidly that he has leased the building formerly occupied by M. J. Haynes for a pressing room, giving him more room in his factory to carry on his business.

On account of the Communion service, the regular meeting of the Junior Endeavor society, which was to occur last Sunday, was postponed one week. The election of officers will probably be held at that time.

Miss Clara Pudinton, of this city, has taken a position as nurse at the Bangor Hospital. Miss Purinton is a very capable nurse, having been for some time a trained nurse in the Massachusetts General Hospital.

A party of the members of Garfield Lodge, I. O. of G. T., are arranging a ride to occur to-morrow evening, to Orono, for the purpose of visiting the lodge there. Quite a good sized crowd will probably participate in the affair which will undoubtedly be a pleasant one.

There was a "husking bee" at the homestead of Mr. Mark Sweet in East Holden last evening. After the husking all joined in partaking of the delicious refreshments which Mr. Sweet had provided. There was a large number present and all enjoyed themselves very much.

The National Maine Engineers' Beneficial Association held their first meeting for some time, Monday evening, in the hall over J. C. Holbrook's store. This organization is in a very flourishing condition, having from 25 to 30 members, all of whom derive much benefit from its meetings.

Next Sunday afternoon it is expected that a Christian Endeavor society may be formed at Pine Grove Hall and those interested will do their best to start it on a firm basis. Brewer already has two senior societies and two Junior organizations, and this one will make five societies in the city enrolled under the Christian Endeavor banner.

The new bridge, on Wilson street, near its junction with Parker, is now practically completed. It is a fine stone structure greatly differing from the former one of logs, and is substantially built. Just above the structure, the channel of the brook, which it crosses, has been changed to almost a straight course, instead of the winding course it formerly pursued.

Messrs. W. W. Fogg & Co. will soon move all their stock and fixings from their present stand to the store formerly occupied by D. L. Savage in his plumbing and tin-ware business. They will there conduct only their retail business and possibly run a first class custom business. This will be a great convenience to Brewer people who heretofore have been obliged to go to Bangor for their fine custom work.

A crew of men have been at work for the past few days in tearing down the elevator and staging at the ice plant of E. H. & H. Rollins, near the ferry slip. Yesterday they commenced to level the ground and soon a crew will commence to erect an addition to the old plant. It will be built to hold 12,000 tons or more, extending over all the open ground on the side next to the ferry and down near the water front.

To-day, at East Eddington, the annual fair held there opens, and preparations for a very successful event have been made by those having the matter in charge. The exhibits are expected to be of fine quality and large in number, and everything will be done to make the event pass off smoothly and pleasantly. Races will be held and the new Eddington Band will be in attendance to-morrow afternoon, the fair lasting two days. A number from this city will attend and do their part towards making it a great success.

Brewer's little colony in Brown's camp, at Katahdin Iron Works, are enjoying themselves very much. Mr. Emerson Batcheler returned from that resort Monday, and reports the fish and game very plentiful. Messrs. H. C. Snow and A. H. King, who are there will remain some time longer. Mr. L. A. Boardway, also one of the party, finds the air very beneficial for his health as his many Brewer friends will be much pleased to learn. Mr. Batcheler ...

... and positions referred to the City Council.

On motion of Alderman D. A. Sargent, chairman of the Committee on Schools and School-houses, the City Treasurer was authorized to pay A. A. Kenney $800 in installments towards the building of the South Brewer school-house.

The Committee on Highways asked for time in which to report on extension of Washington street. Time granted. The board listened to remarks by Street Commissioner Holbrook in regard to bridges, and also to remarks of Alderman Snow about the bridge at Dyer's Cove and Waterman's ice house, so called.

The board instructed the City Clerk to communicate with Mr. Waterman in regard to the dilapidated condition of his house and its endangering the passers by.

Voted to instruct the Street Commissioner to complete sidewalks on State and Wilson streets.

A communication was received from the Governor, asking for the appointment of S. A. Hall as coroner. No action taken.

The council then proceeded to audit monthly bills, after which they adjourned to the first Tuesday in November.

BEFORE COLUMBUS CAME.

Cities Built in America More than 400 Years Ago.

A letter from Ysleta, Texas, to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat says:

The nation is about to celebrate "the discovery of America," yet it has voters to whom the coming of Columbus was only an incident. Before the Spanish conquest, Ysleta was a city. The Ysleta people had their politics, their history, their government, their statesmen and their generals. It is much more than 400 years next October since they took their residence on the border of the Rio Grande in Texas. The community has its leading citizens, and they talk freely and interestingly.

They say that originally they came from the Colorado river of the west. Two branches of quite a nation moved eastward at the same time to find new homes. One settled at Ysleta, in what is now Texas; the other at Ysleta, in the present New Mexico. They had government and they built cities. The Texas Ysleta prospered best. Apaches and Comanches viewed the new comers as intruders, and tried to drive them back. They besieged the upper colony, and Ysleta in Texas was obliged to send a military force to help out the brethren. That force remained, and the descendants are still living in the Ysleta of New Mexico. These people are now called Pueblos. Their distinctive name as a tribe or nation was Tihuas. Ysleta was originally Chihua. For 100 years war was waged against the Indians who sought to drive back the Tihuas. Then the Spaniards came in and overran the country. The Tihuas accepted the conquest.

But submission was not because of superior military prowess. It was for a religious reason. For a time the relations ran smoothly. The Spaniards mistook the nature of the people. They thought they were too tame to fight, and they became oppressive. The Tihuas arose in revolution and drove the Spaniards out of New Mexico and Texas. After that for a hundred years there was war between the Tihuas and the Spaniards. The latter with better armament and with increased forces, gradually worsted the former. The Tihuas fighting stubbornly withdrew from their ancient city of Chihau gave up their fields and vineyards and their elaborate irrigation system and moved eastward, even across the Pecos river. They built new towns and made a stronghold in the Hucco mountains. Hucco has been Americanized into Waco. In the Hucco mountains the last battle with the Spaniards was fought. And when the so-called "conquerors" tired of trying to subdue the Tihuas the latter, many of them, moved back to their beloved Ysleta, repaired the ditches and remade the city.

This is history not as it will be found in the books, but as it is told to-day by the best men of Ysleta, than whom the United States has no better assimilated citizens. Until twenty years ago the Tihuas fought the Apaches, their hereditary enemies. Peace was established as the result of a brilliant campaign. In the language of the interpreter the Tihuas "did them up in great shape." When it is remembered how much trouble the Apaches have given the United States soldiers by their wily ways and desperate tactics this victory of the Tihuas appears the more remarkable.

According to the story told at Ysleta by the local chronicles of the Tihuas, the Apaches surprised and murdered two of the Pueblos at what is now Carrizlo station, on the Texas and Pacific railroad. The Tihuas mustered their fighting strength and their best officers took the field. By a series of forced marches and by brilliant manoeuvres they drove the Apaches, between 300 and 400 strong, into the Hucco mountains, and finally into a great cavern. There they penned them in. Sixty of the Apaches died of starvation. In a series of desperate sorties 75 per cent. was killed. Enough got away to carry the news to the tribe. In the language again of the interpreter, "The Apaches never monkeyed with the Tihuas after that."

These Pueblos have been given the reputation of being patient and peace-loving by the historians and ethnologists. They have been credited with being submissive almost to the degree of accepting tyranny in preference to strife. It would appear that this trait has been overdrawn. Army officers say that Tihuas will fight. They have tried them as trailers and scouts in the Indian campaigns and have found them full of strategy and grit. Next to the Apaches the Comanches ranked in savage valor. Yet the Tihuas forced an understanding with the Comanches and established a boundary which neither crossed. After the Hueco tragedy the same kind of a treaty was made with the Apaches.

The cave in which the Apaches perished is treated to this day as a place to be avoided. No Indian will enter it. They say the spirits of the starved and slaughtered Apaches still linger there. The visitor can hear in one corner three distinct raps. They seem to come from another part of the cave. When the sound is followed to what seems to be the source it is heard again, but coming from somewhere else. These three raps can be heard at intervals. Sometimes they seem to come from above and sometimes from below. They are such raps as might be made by striking the rock sharply with a hammer. After the raps comes a whistling or hissing sound. Nobody has ever been able to account for the rappings. All Indians of whatever tribe give the cave a wide berth. The location of this mystery is northeast of El Paso about twenty-five miles.

And now for the explanation of the submission of these people to the Spaniards, an act on which is based misapprehension of their character. Not long ago a gentleman familiar with Aztec lore visited Ysleta in Texas. He brought together the chief men of the Tihuas and made them a speech. In the course of the remarks, which were interpreted sentence by sentence, the visitor told the legend of Cuetzalcoatl. The purpose was to judge of the effect of the narrative upon the Tihuas and to determine their possible relationship to the Aztecs.

Cuetzalcoatl was the Aztec god of air. His functions were those of a priest. Many of his teachings as described by the Aztecs, closely resemble the doctrines of the Christian religion. Cuetzalcoatl taught the art of working silver. He educated the Aztecs in agriculture, trained them in the weaving of cloth, gave them forms of worship, and inculcated the idea of making sacrifices only of flowers. And when the god had thus finished his work he sailed eastward on a raft of snakes, promising to return some time. When Spaniards landed their cross-emblazoned banners, their religious customs and their manners brought back the memory of the god of air. The natives were sure that Cuetzalcoatl had come again. They made haste to welcome. They submitted to Spanish dominion until it grew tyrannical. Cortez got in his cruel work before the mistake was discovered.

Thus the story of Cuetzalcoatl was narrated to the Tihuas of western Texas for the first time by a white man. In the audience were men of great age. Their excitement increased as the narrative progressed. As soon as the end was reached there was a commotion. The listeners looked at each other and then at the speaker. They conversed together in an excited manner. They turned to the interpreter and wanted to know where the white man had learned what he had told. Then they said that the story of Cuetzalcoatl was one of their most sacred memories, and they did not dream it was known to any but themselves. Finding that he knew so much, the Tihuas told many things going to show their common origin with the Aztecs of Mexico and Yucatan. They told of the sacred fires which had been burning centuries for the return of the god. They confirmed the theory that it was the belief in the return of Cuetzalcoatl, which had prompted their submission to the Spanish yoke.

These Tihuas pay taxes and vote; they fulfil all the duties and exercise all of the privileges of American citizens. At the same time they preserve the old forms and offices of Aztec self-government. But the latter is now social rather than political. The Aztec government is a reminiscence. The ideal government is American.

Perhaps the Tihuas are the original long-horns. "X" is interchangeable with "hu" in the ancient spelling and pronunciation. With this born in mind it is not difficult to see a close relationship between Tihuas, pronounced Te-waus, and Texas. The derivation of Texas has given the scholars of the Southwest much trouble. The history of the Tihuas may have a bearing on the controversy.

Kingman News.

Our correspondent writes: Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Townsend returned from Boston last Monday, where they had been spending their honeymoon, a few weeks.

Quite a number from this place attended the fair at Springfield, last week, and report a very pleasant time. Among those who were present was a young man who, trotted his horse on the track, but for fear of getting a record, we are informed, he didn't allow his beast to do its best, therefore, paradoxically, he was not in it.

The usual amount of building and repairing are being done in town this fall. Mr. Wilbur Grant is erecting several large tenement houses near the mill at Crossuntic.

Several men of this town are to go to Bangor, this week, to give testimony in a litigation between some parties at Wytopitlock, the result of which is looked for with much interest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Trask are both enthusiastically engaged in itinerant commerce, and appear to be succeeding remarkably well. Mr. Trask has had an excellent sale of his book, entitled "Men and Issues of '92," and we are glad to see him doing so well.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY.

Foreign investors have poured their money into America, realizing the richness of our resources and the profits to be derived from investing here. Americans have at last awakened to the fact that we have some of the richest fields for investment known to the world right here in our midst, and shrewd ones are availing themselves of this knowledge. One of the best investments which has recently come to light is the Seven Stars Gold Mine of Arizona. In addition to all the ore it has already produced, several millions are now in sight and each day adds to its richness. So certain is this mine in its possibilities, that a voluntary offer has been made to guarantee an annual dividend of 15 per cent. for five years, depositing proper stocks or bonds for that purpose. The opportunity for securing this investment expires October 6th. The headquarters of the company are at 41 Broadway. 1t

HE DID NOT CALL.

The man who tried Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and was sure of $500 reward offered by the proprietors for an incurable case, never called for his money. Why not? O, because he got cured! He was sure of two things: (1) That his catarrh could not be cured. (2) That he would have that $500. He is now sure of one thing, and that is that his catarrh is gone completely. So he is out $500, of course. The makers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy have faith to cure the worst cases of Nasal Catarrh, no matter of how long standing, and attest their faith by their standing reward of $500, offered for many years past, for an incurable case of this loathsome and dangerous disease. The Remedy is sold by druggists, at only 50 cents. Mild, soothing, cleansing, deodorizing, antiseptic, and healing.

"I was sorely afflicted with chronic inflammation of the womb and prolapsus uteri.

"I suffered extremely; was troubled with faintness, severe head and backache, sleeplessness, indigestion, leucorrhœa, and bearing-down pains.

"I could do nothing, and was so utterably miserable I resolved to try the famous 'woman's remedy for woman's ills,' Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did with great success. I bought six bottles of the Compound, and a box of Mrs. Pinkham's Pills.

"After taking six bottles I was much improved, but not cured. I therefore continued, taking in all fourteen bottles; then I effected a perfect cure. I am now better, and can endure more than ever before.

"Now, doctor after doctor treated me before I began with the Pinkham medicines, and they only made me worse. I sincerely believe no doctor Certainly none have been so successful in treating them. My ailing sisters, do as I did. You will make no mistake."—MRS. K. S. THOMPSON, 50 Allen St., Jamestown, N. Y.

THE BANGOR WHIG AND COURIER.

The Presidential Campaign of 1892 will, without doubt, be the most intensely interesting and exciting in the history of the United States, and country people will be extremely anxious to have all the general and political news and discussions of the day as presented in a National Journal in addition to that supplied by their own local paper.

This is the most liberal combination offer ever made in the United States, and every reader of the COURIER should take advantage of it at once.
